NATIONAL GUARD NEWS

Changes in the Territorial Military Establishment.

The following information relative to recent National Guard changes has been secured from the office of Adjutant-General H. F. Robinson.

The resignation of Lawrence W. Quinlan as first lieutenant of I company has been received and filed, to date from August 15th.

First Lieutenant J. H. Carpenter, regimental commissary has made application for and been placed upon the retired list of the National Guard of Arizona. He was commissioned regimental commissary October 28, 1891, and has served continuously since that date.

The resignation of Colonel Win Wyllie as surgeon-general has been accepted by the governor, and he has been dismissed from the service. A commission has been issued to Dr. M. M. Walker to serve as his successor, dating from August 3rd. Colonel Wyllie was appointed by Governor McCord, October 16, 1897, reappointed by Governor Murphy, August 11, 1898, and the command-in-chief expresses his regret at the retirement of Colonel Wyllie from the service.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Captain C. W. Miller of C company has been filled by the election of First Lieutenant C. E. Borrowdale as his successor. Captain Borrowdale has passed the necessary examination and has received his commission, which dates from July 9th. An election will be held to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Captain Borrowdale.

TEMPTING FATE.

"No, thanks," said the sad faced man when he was asked to join a convivial party. "The fact is I don't drink. Found I couldn't afford it, so I swore off. A number of years ago I lived in the west. I was doing well and I had a bank account that I was proud of. Seeing a chance to double my money, I drew it out. The day was a warm one, and, becoming thirsty, I stopped to take a glass of something cool. I didn't waste more than five minutes, and was soon in line at the paying teller's window. The party ahead of me received his money, and I was showing my check through the window when the teller pulled it down and announced that the bank had suspended payment. I believe that the teller declared a dividend a year or so later, but the amount was so small that I never bothered to collect mine. It was a pretty expensive drink for me."

"Do I understand, sah," said a Kentuckian who was present, "that you took that drink alone?"

"Certainly."

"It was the judgment of heaven, sah," remarked the Kentuckian solemnly.—Detroit Free Press.

First Mosquito—Anything on this afternoon?

Second Mosquito—I believe not.

"Then come over to my house and join me at a baby's nap."

AMUSEMENTS

PARK THEATER.

The Brand of Cain was given again at the park. A large audience was present, which thoroughly enjoyed the play, which is one of the best the Ruble company has given us. The same play will be repeated tonight for the last time. The Ruble season ends next week, August 24th, when four of its strongest plays will be produced.

GOOD TEMPLARS' SOCIAL.—Instead of holding their regular business session in their hall on next Monday night the Good Templars will meet on Mrs. Seaman's lawn at No. 847 North Second street, and invite their friends to be present. It will be an informal social, where all will be expected to assist in making a pleasant evening. At the meeting of the lodge last Monday night the following officers were installed: Chief Templar, Freeman Pike; vice Templar, Miss Mabel Pike; secretary, John Kelley; assistant secretary, Miss Edith Knight; financial secretary, R. H. Irwin; treasurer, A. P. Walbridge; marshal, Jno. G. Tinker; deputy marshal, Mrs. Nettie Scott. Recommended for lodge deputy, Mrs. Rose Godfrey.

A WAY TO HELP

Friendly Correspondence Can be Turned to Good Account

Every resident of this city can help in one way or another in the work of advertising Phoenix and all Arizona. One way in which some good work can be accomplished by newcomers and, in fact, all who have not lived here long enough to have broken off all affiliation with their former place of residence, is outlined by Secretary Hamilton of the board of trade. It is simply this: The local newspapers in all the eastern towns or elsewhere that Phoenix residents may hail from are always glad to learn of the prosperity and the doings of their former townsmen. Most of them are anxious to give greater or less space to former residents who feel inclined to let their old friends know of conditions as they find them in the west. If each newcomer, or each resident of this valley who has a "home" paper, will take the trouble to write a short, newsy letter or a series of letters back to his home paper, he can truthfully say many things that will redound to the glory and profit of this valley, and in most cases, these letters will be printed.

If those who would write feel their incompetency to give facts and figures they can easily post themselves by securing board of trade literature from the secretary. But Secretary Hamilton goes even further. He says if there are those who feel like writing, but have not the time to do so, or are fearful that they cannot get up the letter in proper form, if they will apply to him he will outline the letters for them, or

If necessary, write them and turn them over to the parties applying for their approval and transmission.
This is certainly a liberal offer on his part, and one that should prompt many people to interest themselves in the town they live in.

BRIEFS.

The fellow who hasn't got a sweet heart sunning at Oconomowoc is to be congratulated. It would be an awful strain on love to have to address a letter to that place every day.
